The American Association of Avian Pathologists

The AAAP is a non-profit association that promotes scientific knowledge to enhance the health, well-being, and productivity of poultry to provide safe and abundant food for the world. It is comprised of poultry veterinarians, scientists engaged in some phase of avian diseases and/or food safety and students who are pursuing a career in poultry health and well-being and/or food safety. The AAAP has been the leading educational organization in the United States for professionals involved in poultry health since 1957. AAAP is an international organization with over 850 members in more than 50 countries.

Join AAAP

Go to the AAAP website and fill out a New Membership Form.
www.aaap.info/membership
2016 Rates:
Student Member: $20
Member/Associate Member: $220
Member/Associate Member with print copy of Avian Diseases: $280
International Member with print copy of Avian Diseases: $305

For more information, contact: Bob Bevans-Kerr Executive Director, Janece Bevans-Kerr Director of Member Services, or Nathan Bevans-Kerr, Associate Director
12627 San Jose Blvd., Suite 202 Jacksonville, FL 32223-8538; aaap@aaap.info; www.aaap.info; 904-425-5735